Dr. W.A. Lee House - 210 W. Hazel St.

The Lee House, locally designated as historic by the Fergus Falls Heritage Preservation Commission, is a classic example of Streamline Moderne. Designed by Foss and Company, it was built by contractor William Schueller with a box floor plan.

Features of the brick and block construction include curving exterior walls at the front entrance highlighted by fluted columns, a block-patterned south wall, curved stair wall with glass block lights, and a glass-walled living room. Extensive use has been made of horizontal bent pipe railings and horizontal brick bands highlighting second story windows. The horizontal emphasis and the smooth curves are typical of the late period of Art Deco.

Dr. Lee was the city's first health officer. His wife, Lucy, was a significant musical influence in the community as a music teacher, choir director and soloist. Mrs. Lee's main floor music room was designed with a half-circle bay window overlooking Lake Alice.

Schueller, the builder, also was the contractor for Fergus Falls' City Hall.
